STRUCTURE &amp; CONFIGURATION

Configuration & Component Relationships

Head Pillow Cushion

The separate upper pillow supports the head and neck area while keeping the recliner's low, relaxed profile visually complete.

Segmented Backrest Cushion

The broad padded backrest uses horizontal channel sections to provide full back support and a soft, casual lounge appearance.

Rear Support Panel

The rear back panel forms the visible back structure and helps define the chair's angled reclining silhouette.

Seat Cushion

The thick black seat cushion provides the main sitting surface with stitched sections and rounded padding for daily comfort.

Front Footrest Panel

The front padded footrest panel extends from the lower body to support the legs during short rest or reclining use.

Configuration boundary

Component names identify stated or visible product groups only. The exact installed version and inclusion of accessories are confirmed in the applicable order.

STRUCTURE

Structure Decomposition

This current-product structure view supports assembly recognition and configuration review. It is intended for product identification and option verification.

Selection significance

Confirm that the depicted assemblies and connection relationships match the exact model and ordered configuration. Do not infer hidden components or service steps from the image.
